C&J Parking Lot Sweeping, Inc. Announced as 2011 Winner of WorldSweeper's Award of Excellence in Power Sweeping

The Editorial Board of WorldSweeper.com is pleased to announce the selection of Michigan-based, C&J Parking Lot Sweeping, Inc., as the recipient of its 2011 Award of Excellence in Power Sweeping. Ranger Kidwell-Ross, editor of the world's largest resource for power sweeping, says of C&J Parking Lot Sweeping and the company's president, Ray Confer:

"Each year we pick one person and/or organization involved in the worldwide power sweeping industry for our annual Award of Excellence in Power Sweeping. C&J Parking Lot Sweeping exemplifies the standards we require. They are an ethical, top-flight firm that puts our industry into the best possible light by providing both the highest quality of professionalism in their own business operations, but have shown a demonstrable pattern of assisting others throughout the sweeping industry. With over 5,000 sweeping contractors and suppliers in America, C&J Parking Lot Sweeping is to be congratulated on being recognized as the firm deserving of the single such award we present per year.”

C&J Parking Lot Sweeping, Inc. was started in 1978 by Ray Confer. In addition to power sweeping, the service for which the company is being nationally recognized, the firm also provides a comprehensive slate of property maintenance services. The company serves the Greater Detroit, Michigan, market area. The firm services more than 1400 customers, has 40+ sweepers and support vehicles and over 50 full time employees.
